

We caused this.
But we will not save you.

Collage:

Headline: Rich countries caused this, but they will not save you. The poor just drown.

In the middle of my collage, there is a sinking island, Tuvalu. People there are calling for help. However, the G7 ship responds, "We caused this but we will not save you." Rich countries caused climate change directly due to high emissions, but they ignored the poor. The poor had to leave their homeland on their small boat. By 2050, there will be 1.2 billion climate refugees having no protection.

The rich watch, but the innocent drown.
